THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Railroad Traffic

In addition to the heavy passenger traffic on the railroads entering Spartanburg, there has been a marked increase in the freight business, the result of which there are no dull moments at the passenger station or the freight depot or the railroad yards. The passenger trains of the night, like the day trains, are carrying large numbers of people who are leaving town or passing through to other points or resorts to spend their summer vacation. The freight yards are filled with cars and most of them are loaded, which is just the reverse of the condition several months ago. When the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio road is opened into the city the volume of freight business will be greatly increased.—Spartanburg Journal.

A Great Corn Grower.

Mr. E. Duncan Henderson, of Smoaks, claims to be the champion early corn raiser of this section, and early it is that he gets his corn matured and gathered. Already this year he has planted a field of corn that is matured and has been gathered. Also the same ground has been planted in the same corn again, and if anything like favorable seasons prevail he will get another crop just as good as the first. This is raising two crops on the same ground in a year and is increasing the yield many fold.—Branchville Journal.

MUSIC FOR HIS COWS.

Jersey Farmer Uses a Phonograph to Encourage the Milk Industry.

Asserting that the psychic qualities of phonograph music have the effect of persuading his cows to give more milk than they are inclined to give without the aid of soul stirring harmonies, Stever Smith, a farmer near Great Notch, N. J., went to Montclair, N. J., recently and purchased a dozen new records at a music store for use in his dairy.

Smith said he formerly had in his employ as dairymaid a Swiss girl, whose yodling to the cows had such a soothing effect that the bovines would have made him rich through their efforts if the pleasant conditions could have continued for a few years. The girl, Lena by name, got married, and after her departure the cows moped and refused to give much milk.

The accidental introduction of the phonograph at the farmhouse gave Smith a hint as to its advantages as a substitute for the songs of the tuneless dairymaid, and now the cows are in a fair way to become heavy milk producers, as of yore.

GOOD ROADS IN GEORGIA.

Talk of a Seven Hundred Mile Road Between Atlanta and Washington. The Good Roads club of Georgia has started a movement for the construction of an improved highway between Atlanta and Washington, at a 700 miles. The plan is that each of the counties in the different states should agree to maintain the highway after it has been completed. The rapid spread of interest in automobiles has aroused the Georgia men to the urgent need of better roads in the south, and they believe that an improved highway from Atlanta to the national capital would give a great impetus to the good roads movement all over the south.

It has been suggested by the projectors of the proposed highway that the authorities of each county agree to round up, roll and ditch one of the existing connecting roads from border to border and improve it with a macadam surface as soon as possible. It is believed that this plan can be carried out so that motorists will be able to travel over a continuous stretch of fairly good roads by the middle of the coming summer. It is suggested that the dirt roads which must be included in the highway be kept in condition by using split log wards similar to the one devised by Dr. Ward King of Missouri. The farmers of Georgia are just as enthusiastic over the plan as the automobilists of the state.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. He has properly investigated them; and in the preparation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has proven itself to be the most efficacious stomach, liver, kidney, heart, tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even organic diseases, and other ailments of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other ailments is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical cases, which is sent free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvellous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar ailments, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of grateful testimonials contained in the official papers who have been cured by it of a variety of ailments, including irregularities, profuse and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus, and a host of other ailments after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists specially equipped for the purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other hurtful ingredients. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

Bad Reports of Cotton.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. To-day the danger is shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure Sore Lungs, Colds, obstinate Coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it is the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by all Druggists. Trial bottle free.

FATE OF THE BRAAKE.

A Treasure Ship That Liss Buried Off Cape Henlopen.

Somewhere in deep water off Cape Henlopen lies over half a million in British gold, and how much more in gold and silver bars and plate and other treasures can only be guessed at. In 1798 the British privateer Braake sailed for the west Atlantic bearing enough gold to pay off all the English troops stationed in various parts of the new world. As the soldiers had not been paid in many months the sum was a large one.

Whether the captain of the Braake decided to turn pirate or whether he merely was showing excessive zeal in making war on all the enemies of England that he met on the high seas and intended to turn over his loot to the crown on his return will never be known, but the fact that the Braake took no prisoners and sank every prize goes a long way toward proving the piracy theory. The Braake captured a Spanish merchantman coming up from South American ports laden with rich tribute from the Spanish colonies there, transferred the precious cargo to her own hold and burned the vessel. Another Spanish ship bringing a church service of richly jeweled gold plate to a new world cathedral encountered the privateer and suffered the same fate. The next to fall a victim to the Braake's rapacity was a Frenchman carrying silks, spices, brandy and bars of silver. That, too, was sent to the bottom after it was despoiled.

The Braake was overtaken by a hurricane when nearing the American coast, was blown far out of her course and sank off Cape Henlopen. Several of the crew escaped in a small boat and reached land. Their tales of the treasure on the sunken ship caused several expeditions to be fitted out the following year, but nothing was brought up save pieces of the anchor chain and a cannon or two. During the last hundred years every effort to raise any part of the treasure has failed.

The last attempt was made by Captain Charles Adams, who fitted out a ship under the auspices of the navy department, but was unable to locate the wreck, which is probably by this time deeply submerged in the ooze and mud of the ocean bed.—New York Press.

RACES FOR WOMEN ONLY.

International Equestrienne Contests to Be Held in Rome This Year.

Prince Statten, the famous horseman, is putting the finishing touches to the program for the international women's races to be held in Rome, Italy, sometime in the fall. Equestriennes from all over the world will be invited to compete, and the prize has promise from society ladies in the United States, Italy, Russia, France, Austria, and England to enter the races, riding their own horses as lady jockeys. If not enough society women can be secured professional riders will be in view; otherwise the latter will be excluded.

The races are to be managed by Emilio Duror, Massena's manager, but the Rome Equestrienne Club, of which Prince Statten is president, will decide on the admittance to applicants. Amateurs will be invited to compete both in flat races and the steeplechase.

According to Prince Statten, a rich American residing in Paris has offered a prize of 100,000 francs for the lady winning in the 12500 foot race. It is reported that the prince will donate the general office. There are to be other prizes to attract the ladies.

Read Building to Music.

Major L. W. V. Kenyon in building the Beaconer road through the mountains of northern Luzon, Philippine Islands, was determined to study the character of his 4000 native employees and adopt peculiar methods of developing their efficiency. He found that music was the best incentive to work. He had a band follow the gangs wherever they went and play as the men worked. From laborers worth 10 cents a day he developed the men into musical machines working in cadence with drum beats. Finally in closing up the work he made a wager that the road would be finished by a certain day. He promised a good cigar to every laborer if he won the bet. He won.

THE SMALLEST HUMAN BRAIN.

Prof. That Size of Organ Does Not Measure Intellect.

What is believed to be the smallest brain ever found in a normal human being was revealed as a result of an autopsy performed at the New York city morgue upon the body of Daniel Lyons, a watchman, employed in the Pennsylvania tunnel excavation.

Lyons became ill suddenly while at work, and, having had no medical attendance, his death came technically under the investigation of the coroner. Dr. Philip O'Hanlon, who, with Prof. John E. Larkin, of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, made the autopsy, found that the brain of Lyons weighed only 24 ounces, although the normal weight of the human cerebrum is from 48 to 50 ounces.

Lyons was 40 years of age, five feet five inches in height and weighed 140 pounds. Those who had known him for many years testified that he was of average intelligence. The cause of the man's death was inflammation of the kidneys. The man's brain seemed in every way normal except as to size.

"It is one of the most remarkable brains I have ever seen," said Dr. O'Hanlon, who has made thousands of autopsies, "and it shows that the size of the brain does not necessarily measure the intellect of man. Lyons was, from all that I can learn, intelligent and capable. The quality of the brain, and not the size of it, counts. One of the smallest brains known to anatomists was that of Gambetta, at one time president of France, and a brilliant and forceful thinker."

RICH GOLD FIND IN CANADA.

Field Discovered in Saskatchewan Province Rivals the Klondike.

The most remarkable gold discovery since the Klondike find was recently made at Lac La Ronge, 200 miles north of Prince Albert, in the great hinterland of the province of Saskatchewan.

H. C. Hamelin and B. L. Clemens of Prince Albert, having evidence of a rich gold area in northern Saskatchewan, outfit last year three parties of prospectors. The finds were encouraging, but not sensational. This year two more parties were sent out, and the finds which have been made of an eight inch vein of free milling gold quartz has created a profound sensation.

Deputy H. C. Hamelin has a specimen from the vein quartz declared to be the richest and best defined specimen he has seen. The assays so far made from former field have shown $21 to $28 and $31 to $41 to the ton respectively, but the best sample is declared to carry from $2000 to $3000 to the ton. The finds have been made within forty miles of each other.

A Protected Industry.

No industry is more highly subsidized by the tariff than the window glass factories, and the glass workers imagined they too were protected in getting higher wages. The glass trust was naturally fostered by this tariff protection. Yet all this seeming prosperity has been on the surface, as far as the workmen are concerned, for even in prosperous times they seldom found work for more than six months out of the year, but cut wages in half. To organize like the glass trust, their master, was very natural, but the trust became possessed of a patent machine for making glass that does the work of ten men, and the day of big wages for all the workers became a thing of the past. The Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers threatened to expel those workmen who accepted work in factories where machinery is used, and as only union men are allowed by the amalgamated to work in those factories there is a deadlock. The courts have been appealed to to join the association from expelling those who are willing to work in the machine factories. Thus the glass workers have discovered that tariff protection does not protect either in stability of work or continuing high wages. If the tariff was reduced on window glass the trust and the workmen's combination in restraint of trade, for that is what the court decided, for that is what the court decided, for that is what the court decided, for that is what the court decided.

Where Women May Not Pray.

In some parts of the world the women are not even allowed to pray, certain Hindu congregations deny their women this privilege, and among the Ahas women can pray only in very rare cases as the deities of their husbands. The natives of Madagascar, however, stretch a point and permit their women to intercede with the powers of evil, but prayer to the supreme being is strictly a masculine prerogative.

Repopulating Chinese Islands.

Several centuries ago many of the Chinese coast islands were deliberately depopulated owing to the attacks in turn of Japanese pirates and European freebooters, but in view of the Kientao (Korean) dispute and the Prata Island difficulty the Chinese government has begun to see the danger of leaving any place unoccupied, and consequently Chinese merchants are now raising repopulating syndicates.

The National Summer Capital.

Severely and Manchester-by-the-Sea in the north shore of Massachusetts are likely to become the combined summer capital of the nation in 1909. Robert Taft has chosen to spend the summer months on that historic rocky shore where for years past many prominent members of the diplomatic corps have held their rendezvous. Environment has a marvellous influence on opinions and decisions, and prophetic and genuine forecasts predict great results when the executive department is camped and for months by the ceaseless ocean roll that breaks in storm and calm all about the north shore from Gloucester down to Marblehead and to Swampscott. The vivifying breezes of that New England coast may induce a breadth of view wide as the great ocean and vigorous as the sea breezes.—Joe Mitchell, Clamper in National Magazine For July.

Too True!

There is a rare bit of pathos in the letter written by the late Dr. Edward Everett Hale to the Tyngsboro, (Mass.) centennial committee in the latter part of March regretting his inability to attend the celebration. He wrote, "I have another engagement, which I cannot cancel, for the end of June."
